

INFOR Global Solutions

Infor, apart from being the third largest provider of enterprise applications and services, is an outward-facing company. This perhaps is the one description that accurately captures the culture at Infor. As an integral part of this work culture, you have the opportunity to apply for any of our current job openings, based on your area of expertise. What's more, you can also refer your close friends, contacts, and other acquaintances that might suit the role.
